Hi George,

This is a reminder that that the renewal of the Greater Chinatown BID is behind schedule and in jeopardy of not renewing for 2021.

Our office has received and reviewed the first draft of the BID's current assessment data. However, we have not received a first draft of a renewal management district plan and engineer's report, both of which were due on August 15th. Both of these documents must be reviewed and approved before the BID may begin gathering petitions to present to the City Council and start the re-establishment process.

I also need to remind you that if the BID is not successfully renewed in time to be placed on the County's tax rolls that the City will not hand-bill the assessments and the BID will have to wait a year to receive any funding and begin operation.

Please have your renewal consultant submit the required documents for the City Clerk's review as soon as possible.

Please contact your BID's Analyst Eugene Van Cise if you have any questions or concerns.

Thank you.
